THE ARTHUR AND ROCHELLE BELFER NATIONAL CONFERENCE FOR EDUCATORS

June 27–29, 2010

“ The Belfer conference was meaningful, thoughtfully connected to our world, and so appropriate for a wide range of teachers. I’m looking at the world—past, present, and future—in a different way as a result of my time at the Museum and with the staff.”

—Participant from Montana

The Education Division of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum is pleased to announce the 2010 Arthur and Rochelle Belfer National Conference for Educators. The conference is funded by a grant from the Belfer Foundation.

Middle and high school educators and community college faculty are encouraged to attend. The conference is designed for educators with less than five years’ experience teaching about the Holocaust, but educators with more experience may attend. (Educators with five or more years’ experience teaching about the Holocaust may apply to the Museum Teacher Fellowship Program; an online application is available at the URL listed below.)

Museum educators and scholars share rationales, strategies, and approaches for presenting the complex subject of the Holocaust to students.

Participants hear survivor testimony and have extensive time to view the Museum’s Permanent Exhibition; Remember the Children: Daniel’s Story; State of Deception: The Power of Nazi Propaganda; From Memory to Action: Meeting the Challenge of Genocide; and other special exhibitions in the Wexner Center. Seminar sessions emphasize planning and implementing units of study for Holocaust education. Teachers who complete the program receive a set of educational materials and a voucher worth $100 to purchase Holocaust-related resources in the Museum shop.

To apply, please complete the online application at <http://www.ushmm.org/education/foreducators/prodev/belfer/> and fax a letter of recommendation from your supervisor to Nicole Reaves at 202.314.7888. Applications are due no later than June 4, 2010.

While there is no charge for the conference, participants are responsible for their own transportation and accommodations. A limited number of scholarships are available.

For more information, contact Christina E. Chavarría, Program Coordinator, National Outreach for Teacher Initiatives, at 202.488.0466 or cchavarria@ushmm.org.
